

CEREMONIAL VOCALS

OVERVIEW

Ceremonial Vocals is the second library within the world vocals series of Rast Sound. We are very lucky to meet and work with an amazing performer who spent most of her time within the ceremonial act and performance (more on next page).

Ceremonial Vocals provides vocal performances from South American ceremonies, indigenous rituals and more. Just like in Mideast Vocals, the library provides vocal performances within different forms from complete songs to a huge collection of loops (processed and natural), phrases and one shots to sweet extra's like overtone singing, shruti box samples and words. Ceremonial Vocals also comes with a set of Kontakt 5 instruments such as multisample instruments to loop and phrase players and a sweet shruti box sample instrument.

We believe this library is useful for anyone related to music production, composers for cinema and media, electronic music producers of any genre and world-fusion lovers.

Within this guide you may find more on content and production details.

We made this for you, enjoy it!

PERFORMER

While realising Ceremonial Vocals library, we worked with Cagil Cokan, a musician, ceremonial vocal performer and visionary.

She studied classical flute at Conservatory and started traveling and expending her musical wings over beautiful lands of South and North America. She learned ceremonial performance from natives of South America during ceremonies and rituals. She performs in medicine circles and out side of the circle with diverse kinds of music.

RECORDING

Different & detailed approach is needed when recording vocals, especially a few different ones within the same production. For us, the crucial point is to tune a fine balance between environment - equipment - performance and coffee.

Recordings took place in Babajim Studios.

Ceremonial Vocals library is recorded with 3 mics, for the following reasons,

Neumann U87

Flat & Detailed sound

Crisp high end and rich low end response

Coles 4038 Ribbons

Nostalgic & Authentic sound

Never underestimate the depth of a Ribbon

Electrovoice Re 20

Saver for shoutings

Add on dynamic brightness
